

ADVANCING SAFE INFANT SLEEP: CULTURAL CONTEXT, PREVENTION STRATEGIES, AND CLINICAL OPPORTUNITIES

Every family deserves the knowledge and support to create a safe sleep environment for their infant, but real-world barriers, cultural practices, and inconsistent messaging can make that challenging. Join us to explore the factors influencing infant sleep practices and the critical role they play in prevention.

Go beyond the basics and explore the cultural, social, and systemic influences that shape caregiver decisions and contribute to sleep-related infant deaths.

Designed with real-world application in mind, this webinar highlights the unique and powerful role healthcare professionals play in delivering consistent, impactful safe sleep education.

– OBJECTIVES –

- Describe cultural influences, caregiver practices, and systemic barriers that affect implementation of safe infant sleep recommendations.
- Review current evidence-based safe sleep recommendations and global data related to sleep-related infant deaths and prevention strategies.
- Apply consistent safe sleep messaging and education strategies when counseling caregivers in clinical and community settings.
- Identify opportunities to integrate safe sleep education and prevention strategies into healthcare settings, including emergency departments and other points of caregiver interaction.
